CASE STUDY OAKLAND MEWS

Oakland Mews is a 21-plot residential development in the village of Strumpshaw, Norfolk.

Contractors Total Build East Anglia were committed to using traditional materials that were in keeping with the historic significance of the area. They wanted a traditional red-brick style that matched the look of a former factory that was on the site.

Working closely with MKM Building Supplies in Norwich, they selected our stock-thrown Hampton Rural blend brick for the facing walls. This rustic red brick, tarnished with blackened flashes perfectly complements the slate grey copings and capping supplied by our Cradley Heath Brick Specials team.

THE STOCK-THROWN HAMPTON RURAL BLEND BRICK REFLECTS THE HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE OF THE SITE.

The Hampton Rural Blend is one of our Ecostock range of pressed and thrown bricks manufactured at our Measham factory. We use locally sourced clay and sustainable production technology to deliver bricks with excellent colour consistency, dimensional accuracy and quality.

WATERSTRUCK RED BRICKS

WATERSTRUCK'S UNIQUE FINISH

Waterstruck is one of seven main textures that we offer. Texture is vital because it alters the visual feel of a brick by influencing how light reflects off its surface to create highlight and shade.

If you want a relatively smooth, sand-free texture, then our Shelton Waterstruck range is a great choice. We produce it by using water instead of sand to release these soft mud bricks from their moulds to create a lightly textured surface that is unlike any other brick.

We use the latest technology to maximise sustainability and production efficiency and we meet the requirements of BES 6001 Responsible Sourcing certification.
